Mike Hood hired as new vice principal, athletic director

Mike Hood has been in the field of education for 12 years. He spent his first six years at Westside Christian High School in Tigard as an athletic director and physical education teacher. During his time there, he coached multiple sports including basketball, golf, tennis, and volleyball. For the past six years he has coached youth basketball and taught physical education and health at the middle school level. Prior to his experience in education, he coached college basketball at Portland State University spending four years with the women's basketball program and two years with the men's basketball program. Mr. Hood played college basketball at University of California Irvine. He lives in Philomath and is married to the love of his life, Heidi. Their daughter, Jordyn, will be a freshman this fall at PHS and their three younger sons, Isaiah, Luke, and Caleb, will soon follow.

Annual Talent Show kicks off Homegoing Week

Junior Kayli Blake took first place in the annual talent and lip sync show Tuesday hosted by ASB. Senior Ellie Morales and the Marshmallows came in a close second. There were more than 10 acts, including lots of talented musicians, a few teacher acts and the Little Warrior preschool.

Powder Tuff and luau dinner held Thursday night

Thursday night ASB hosted Powder Tuff with a luau following. In Powder Tuff, boys play volleyball by class. The sophomores defeated the juniors in the championship game. They faced the staff team Friday morning.

Dave Dunham mans the BBQ for the luau Thursday night.

Field Day caps off fun-filled Homegoing Week

A big thanks to ASB students and advisor Dave Dunham for putting together a great Homegoing Week. The sophomores defeated the staff in the Powder Tuff game. New Vice Principal and Athletic Director Mike Hood was a great addition to the staff team. After the game, students enjoyed a fun-filled field day.
